Delcan Team receives Award of Excellence from the Ontario Professional Planners Institute

Toronto, Canada, November 12, 2007 -- Delcan, an award winning, multi-disciplinary engineering, management and technology consulting firm, is pleased to announce that it was honoured with an Award of Excellence in Planning at the annual conference of the Ontario Professional Planners Institute (OPPI) in October 2007.

Eric Turcotte & Andrea Gabor (Urban Strategies), Ron Clarke (Delcan), Claudio Brun Del Re (University of Ottawa)

The award winning study was the "University of Ottawa King Edward Precinct Plan". Under the guidance of this newly approved plan, the King Edward Precinct of the University is to become a vibrant mixed use and pedestrian oriented area that acts as a transition between the main campus of the university and the adjacent Sandy Hill Community.

Delcan contributed urban planning, transportation planning, and municipal servicing expertise to this study which was led by Urban Strategies.

"We are proud to be a longstanding partner with the University of Ottawa and are delighted to be part of the team that received this prestigious award. Delcan values our long-standing relationship with the University of Ottawa and we look forward to working together towards future success." said Ron Clarke, Delcan's project manager for this assignment.

Delcan, founded in 1953 and operating globally, serves a multi-disciplinary client base by focusing on meeting client needs and expectations.
